and that is where he met Wade Page. Page had also reclassified into PSYOPS from being a Missile Repair man out of Texas. Page was the shy-loner type through school who hung out in the corner, but he seemed like a "normal guy."

Page developed friendships with other soldiers in the PSYOPS group. He believes is still in the Army.

There was one weekend when no one in the group had heard from him, which was unusual. One of the soldiers in their group heard that so he went to check on him. The soldier had to break into Page's house, and he found Page passed-out drunk. He believed it was during the day on a Sunday. He said that ever since that incident Page seemed to have a "serious alcohol problem", which is what led to his discharge. He stated that he never had a conversation with Page about his drinking because at the time everyone in the Army drank.

He knew that Page believed in the white supremacist ideology. Page would not talk about it at work, but while out at parties or other social gatherings is when Page would vent or talk about his frustrations related to race. Page would often talk about the "racial holy war", and told them that they all needed to prepare for it.

He believed that there were a couple of events that happened at Fort Bragg which helped develop Page's ideology. On there was a white soldier walking out of the IHOP restaurant who was jumped by 4 or 5 Black civilian men. The soldier was put in a coma. There was another incident on two soldiers from the 82nd Airborne went into town looking to harass Black individuals, they shot and killed two civilian Black individuals. The soldiers were arrested. Page thought that was a hero for that incident. In there was a graffiti incident where 6 doors were tagged with Swastika's - 5 of the doors belonged to Black individuals. Page thought it was a good thing.

The entire base was a "recruiting ground." The non-Airborne side was "gangland", and the Airborne side was "white supremacists." PSYOPs was in the middle.

Before page left the Army he started getting into racist music. His favorite band was RaHoWa (A Canadian white supremacist band who's name is an abbreviation for Racial Holy War). Page read two books related to white supremacy. One was "The Turner Diaries" that Page gave to him and told him to read. He took it from Page, but never read it. Page told him that it was about a sniper who would shoot non-white's and hang them from a lamp post. Page talked about wanting to do that himself - he fantasized about being the sniper in the book. He can't remember the title of the second book.
Page thought he looked like the perfect Aryan. He called him a race traitor. Page got into some pretty serious arguments.

He and the other guys took it upon themselves to keep an eye on Page because of his depression and alcohol use. He thought they had been doing a good job. He believes that Page must have had some other outside influence that they did not know about. He may have been hanging out with people who shared his ideas. Page was staying just under the radar with his drinking.

In late 1997 or 1998, Page was living in the barracks and had gone out drinking over the weekend. Page missed formation and eventually showed up to work still intoxicated. Page was demoted for that incident and was given an opportunity to get treatment. Page had thirty days to decide if he would accept the treatment or be discharged from the Army. The group tried to convince Page to get the treatment and stay in the Army, but Page chose to get out. Thirty days later Page was gone. He said it was like Page had just given up and was down on everything.

In 2000, Page called him from California and told him that he was planning a motorcycle ride across the country to visit all of his Army buddies. Page came to his house and stayed for a week. Page told him that he was currently living on the street and could not find a job. Page was in a racist band named Youngblood, but the band kicked him out, which is what prompted the road trip. Page had some racist tattoo's and was very proud of them.

In 2001 or 2002, he received an e-mail from Page stating that he was in a new band named Max Resist and they were going to Europe to play. Page sent him one of their fliers. Page was proud that he was going to perform in Germany.
The last contact was when Page called him and told him that he was going through truck driving school, and he was going to be driving through his town with his instructor. He met up with Page and they talked for a couple of hours. Page seemed upbeat and he thought that things had turned around for Page. He had not heard from Page since that meeting.
ON A SUNDAY.

SINCE THAT HE HAD A SERIOUS
ALCOHOL PROBLEM - THAT'S WHAT US

DO NOT HAVE ANY CONV. ABOUT IT -

IT WAS LIKE HE WAS JUST GIVING UP.

HE WAS DOWN ABOUT EVERYTHING,
SET HIS MIND THAT HE WAS GOING BACK TO COLORADO - NO PLAN.
When he was in Alpha Co.,
go to parties or other social gatherings,
he would talk about WSE - more like he was venting / frustrations.

Example - talk about the Korean War,
they should all prepare for it.

Things happened in Fort Benning that helped start that 10:30 -

The whole base was like a recruiting ground,
conscripts on non-airborne slots,
WES and airborne slots,
psy ops in middle.

White soldiers walk out of tent
Got jumped by our 4/25 black guys (pass "citizens"

Race talked thing that it lot

Victim - put in comma

From that incident - use Army in '99

He was still in comma.

- By 8th Airborne soldiers went out
  one town to harass black individuals civil/civilian killed then.

Race thought it was a little.
He would argue his points

where he said multi-ethnic discussion w/ Paul - was anti-racist.

By Paul, left - he started getting into racist music like 'Rahowa' was his favorite.

He read 2 big books
1. "Thieves Diaries" - Paul wanted him to read it.
   - Paul told him that it was about a guy who was a gangster, & he wrote about non-white & how they
     from a young age.
   - Paul took him to want to do
     that himself - practiced doing
     being the singer guy

2. Can't remember the other book

"Rage's"

called him a race traitor.
They would get into some pretty serious argument.
At work - mixed group of people. He seemed okay.

RARE TO SEE MINIATURE IN PAYOPS

Group Names: on BASE

Pays always talked about wanting to join "HammerSkings."

He had been taken under influence. Not talk much to talk to anyone in army. Has staying under radar. Just using alcohol as far as he knew. Just beer.

In '96 (He wanted to use German family bag.)

Think it ended up in European battalion. They went to OPQ. Battalions still ran over.

(In '98 was incident when he had to kill or get help.)

A Good Thing.
He was here hanging out w/ people who simply lose - now sober.

When he left he was a different person - figured it was because of depression & leaving army.

He didn't discuss past - don't know.

He never talked about his family - he would skirt the issue.

Know he was from Denver Co - that's all.

Never mentioned going back to any family.

In 2000, Paul came in - told us about motorcycle trip & runaways - he missed his army buddies.

In 2000, he moved his bike & stayed at the house for a week.

Paul said he was living on street - oceans away in CA - was in a sketchy racist band 'Youngblood' that were supposed to record an album - the band kicked him out - ruined road trip.
He didn't want to talk about it.

Starting in CA

Go to N/Carolina - Got away from him that he was sprinkler fire off of Florida.

Came in last steps on the way - He sold all
his possessions

Pics of him in Young Blood - He played a bass

Never played anything in Army.

Re: 266N-MW-2440609, 08/17/2012

On 5 August 2012, Milwaukee Field Office (MW) was notified of an active shooter situation at a Sikh temple in Oak Creek, Wisconsin. Wade Michael Page opened fire on temple attendees at approximately 11:24AM EST. Page killed six and wounded four attendees inside and outside of the temple. Page exited the temple after the shooting and fired at a responding OCPD officer. During the firefight, Page shot and wounded the officer. A second OCPD officer returned fire and shot Page. The second officer then heard another shot after Page fell. MW has surmised that Page shot himself in the head after he was wounded by the second officer.

OCPD provided MW with dash camera footage from squad vehicles recorded during and immediately following the shooting incident. The footage was transferred to DVD on Windows Media Video file format. MW requests that all dash camera footage be combined so that all video files can be seen in sync and on one screen simultaneously for further exploitation of actionable intelligence that may be contained within the footage.

On 08/05/2012 Milwaukee Police provided writing agent initial sketches of the parking lot of the Sikh Temple. Writing agent made copies of those sketches, which were placed into a 1A and are being maintained with the file.

The originals were mailed back to at 749 W. State Street, Milwaukee, WI 53233.
interviewed at his place of business, on 8/10/2012. After being advised of the identity of interviewing Investigative Analyst and the nature of the interview, provided the following information:

only had records going back eight years and did not find WADE MICHAEL PAGE as a former employee. He and other employees could not positively remember PAGE working there. One unknown employee remembered a male who worked there for a couple of months before leaving to join the Army; that person gave this employee a dog when he joined the Army. They could not remember anything else of significance regarding this former employee.

On 8/15/2012, TFO contacted by phone. PAGE worked for a condominium management company prior to PAGE joining the Army. confirmed that PAGE gave a dog to one of his coworkers at that company when he joined the ARMY.

TFO then called and left a message requesting contact information for the employee who received the dog. left a message later that day advising that got the dog.

On 8/16/2012, TFO talked to by phone. confirmed that the information on the dog jogged his memory that PAGE did work for the company about twenty years earlier. said that PAGE was a quiet employee who did not express extremist views in presence. PAGE only worked for about six months before moving on, in this case, to United States (In Person, Phone) the Army. [Redacted] said that this was common of young adults that he hired over the course of over 30 years. When PAGE joined the Army, he needed to find a home for his dog and [Redacted] accepted it. [Redacted] had no further information.

Messages were left for [Redacted] 8/15/2012 and 8/16/2012 but were not returned.

Synopsis: (U) EC to request Laboratory Division,
Firearms-Toolmarks Unit to generate shooting incident reconstruction report and the Operational Projects Unit to generate supporting demonstrative imagery.

Details:

On 08/05/2012, at approximately 10:45 a.m., Wade Michael Page, DOB 11/11/1971, SSAN 524-37-2426 was initially identified as an Active shooter involved in the shooting of multiple victims at the Sikh Temple of Wisconsin in Oak Creek, 7512 South Howell Avenue, Oak Creek, Wisconsin. Oak Creek Police Officers responded to the shooting and subsequently engaged Page in the Sikh Temple parking lot. During the altercation, Page shot and seriously wounded one Officer, before he was shot by another Officer and then apparently killed himself at the scene. Seven fatalities resulted from the incident. Two victims, and Page, were found deceased outside the Temple; and, four other victims were found deceased inside the Temple.

Investigation to date has determined Page was the only individual responsible for the shooting of the six victims.

Investigation is focusing on following up with any leads to locate/interview any pertinent associates of Page to further rule out that he was the only individual responsible and who had prior knowledge of the incident.

MW ERT, assisted by Laboratory personnel from FTU and OPU, collected evidence including: shell casings, bullets, metal fragments, and firearms from the Temple and parking lot. Thirty 9mm shell casings, five 223 shell casings, and one 45 shell casing, were found outside the Temple. The thirty 9mm casings were located throughout the lot. The single 45 shell casing was located in the lot near a Heckler-Koch 45 caliber handgun belonging to the wounded Officer.

Regarding the 223 shell casings, three were located inside the Oak Creek PD vehicle driven by the Officer who shot Page, and, two were located on the driveway leading up to the Temple parking lot.

Twenty-two 9mm shell casings were found inside the Temple, throughout the building. Additional physical evidence was acquired from the Milwaukee Police Department (MPD), which investigated the Officer involved shooting, Froedtert Hospital, and the Milwaukee County Medical Examiner's Office. Pertinent evidence, along with an ERT Casebook documenting the search, will be forwarded to the Laboratory. FBI MW requests the assistance of the Laboratory Division, Firearms-Toolmarks Unit to generate a shooting incident reconstruction report.
